Tips on Setting Budget and Cost-Per-Click ▼

- First, set your Budget (the total amount you want to spend on your Job Posting).
- Next, decide if you want to have Glassdoor optimize your cost-per-click (CPC) or if you want to manually set your own CPC. In either case, you will only be charged when someone clicks on your job posting.
- If you choose to have Glassdoor optimize the CPC for you:
 - Rest assured our technology will continuously work to maximize your budget and deliver you the most targeted clicks.
 - Its in our best interest to make your posting successful.
 - Most clicks will cost between $0.15 and $1.50.
- If you choose to manually set your own CPC, remember:
 - The CPC is the maximum amount you are willing to spend for each click on your job posting.
 - A higher CPC ensures your job will show up more often and you'll get clicks sooner.
 - The number of clicks you'll receive on your job posting depends on the Budget and CPC you set: Number of clicks = Budget/CPC
